

About Beddgelert

Beddgelert is renowned as one of the prettiest villages in North Wales, and is winner of many Village in Bloom competitions for Wales, Britain, and Europe.

Situated at the foot of Snowdon, the village centre is an ancient stone bridge near where two rivers meet, where stone houses are jumbled against each other below rocky outcrops, and riverside walks skirt tree-fringed rivers.

All around is spectacular scenery, a fascinating mix of mountains, lakes, woodlands, and streams.

For its size the village is unique, with 60 stone buildings being of listed status a of their architectural unity and historical interest.

Beddgelert is a great base from which to explore Snowdonia, and nearby is walking and climbing of all grades, spectacular sandy beaches, golf courses, great medieval castles at Harlech, Caernarfon, and Conwy, and several of the Great Little Trains of Wales.

Arosfa is easy to find and is situated on the A498 Porthmadog - Capel Curig road, near the edge of the village.

If you are approaching from Capel Curig (ie you are coming down the valley of Nant Gwynant), Arosfa is located in the second row of cottages on the right as you enter the village (opposite the bridge over the River Glaslyn).

If you are approaching from Porthmadog or Caernarfon, Arosfa is located on the left in the second row of cottages on the left as you leave the village (opposite the bridge over the river).

Street parking is available outside the cottage. There are also two public car parks in the village.
